DAVID ANOINTED KING

God told Samuel that David was going to be the next King. He was very young, just a shepherd boy. He appeared to be very ordinary, but God saw something in him that no one else could see - a deep love and trust in God.

God doesn't see things the way we do - often we look at someone and think we know whether they are clever, kind, funny, friendly. But we don't always get it right! What we are on the inside is much more important than how we look.

God said to Samuel 'People judge by outward appearance, but the Lord looks at the heart.'

Think about what it means that God looks at the heart. Write some words in the good heart and bad heart below
Complete these sentences to write a prayer using some of the words you put in the heart

Dear Lord, I'm sorry when I'm ____________________________

__________________________________________________________________

Please help me to be more__________________________________________

__________________________________________________________________
Look at these optical illusions. What do you see when you first look?

Now look again. Do you see something else? Discuss what you see with your leader.